Your next session, step by step

Bookings, memberships, secure payments and status checks - using Arcila Training's current SelahFlow pages.

LIVE SCREENSHOT Arcila Training public home page. The layout shown is the client experience.

For players and families. Follow the numbered steps, compare your screen with the screenshots, and keep the Membership ID assigned to the participant.

Three things to know before you start

01 A request is not a paid booking. Some services need Arcila Training's acceptance before payment instructions are available.

02 A membership is separate from an appointment. Paying for a plan activates eligible benefits; you still book each session in the calendar.

03 SelahFlow helps Arcila manage the process. SelahFlow provides the booking system and automated messages; Stripe handles online checkout. Arcila Training provides the service.

Choose the right path

Use the contents below to jump to the step you need. PDF links and section bookmarks are clickable.

If you want to...	Start here
Book one session	Pages 4-8: service, date/time, details and submission
Pay for an accepted booking	Pages 9-10: email sequence and secure payment
Join and pay for a membership	Pages 11-14: plan, registration, payment and weekly use
Use your saved registration details	Page 15: Membership ID autofill
Check membership or booking status	Pages 16-17: status checker and assistant
Understand emails or resolve an issue	Pages 18-20: email guide, troubleshooting and checklist

Have these ready

The participant's correct first and last name and birth date; a parent/guardian contact where applicable; an email inbox you can access; a phone number; the assigned Membership ID if returning; and the payment method you intend to use.

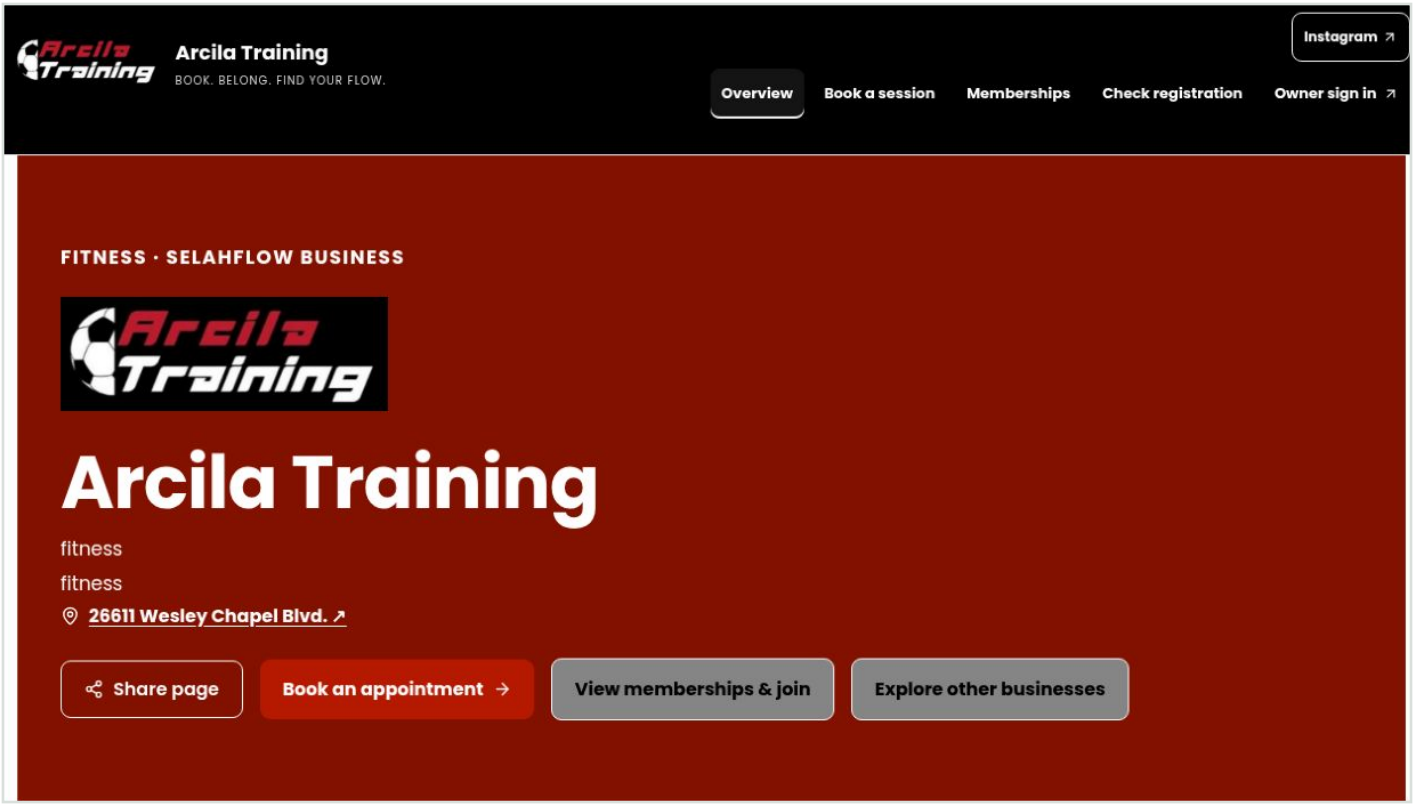

Who does what?

Arcila Training: services, availability, booking decisions, coaching, membership terms, cancellations and support.
SelahFlow: registration forms, saved details, status tools and automated messages on behalf of the business.
Stripe: secure online payment entry and processing. The assistant does not accept card numbers or make a booking for you.

Current-screen guide. Screenshots were captured October 27, 2026. Prices, plans, questions, times and button wording may change. Follow the live summary and final checkout amount. No real booking, signature or payment was submitted to create this guide.

1. Open Arcila Training

Use the client pages. The Owner sign in link is for business staff, not the client booking process.

LIVE SCREENSHOT Use Book a session / Book an appointment, Memberships, or Check registration in the navigation.

01 Open the business page. Use the link below or the business's booking QR code. Confirm the page says Arcila Training.

02 Choose your task. Tap Book a session for an appointment, Memberships to join a plan, or Check registration for an existing ID.

03 On a phone, scroll as needed. Controls may stack vertically. The booking progress still follows Services, Time & team, then Review.

2. Select your service

Example shown: Private Session. Choose the actual service you want, not the one used in this guide.

LIVE SCREENSHOT The Services screen lists the current service names, duration and quoted prices.

01 Read the service name and duration. Choose Private Session, Small Group Session, or another published service that matches your needs.

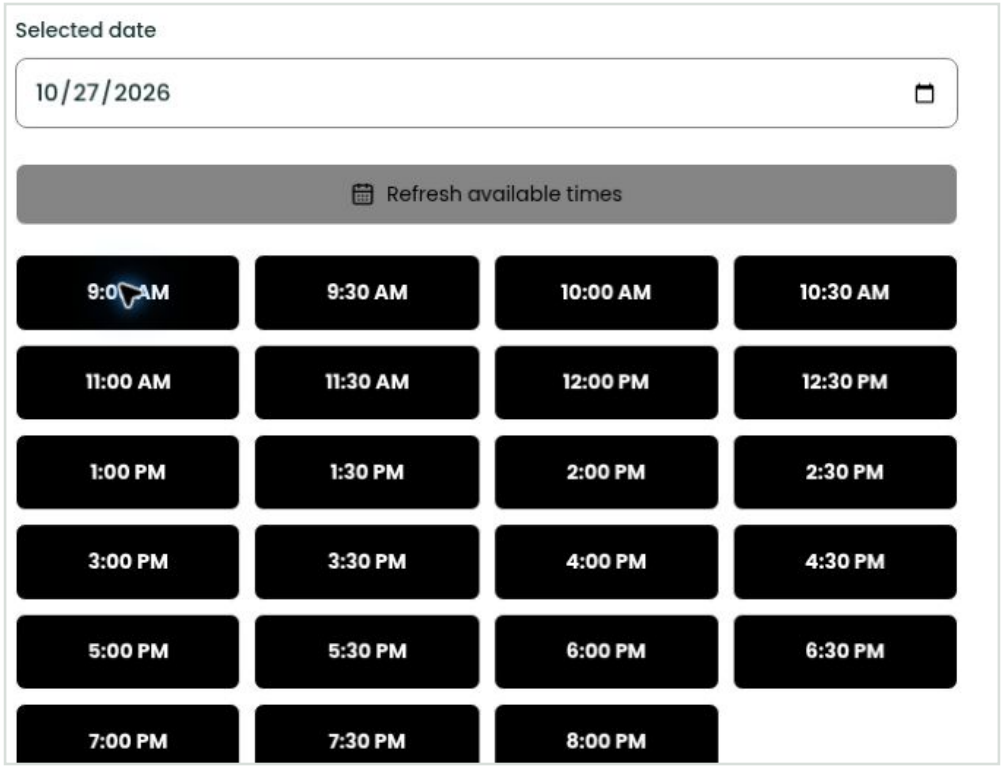

02 Select the service card. The booking total and duration update. The page may allow multiple services; check that every selected item is intentional.

03 Tap Continue. The Time & team step opens. Use Back or Edit services if you selected the wrong item.

Price example. The captured catalog showed Private Session at $90 for one hour and Small Group Session at $60 for one hour. These are examples, not a price guarantee. Eligible paid membership coverage is evaluated with your ID at review.

3. Choose a date and available time

All appointment times displayed in the booking flow are Eastern time. Check this carefully if you are traveling.

LIVE SCREENSHOT Choose a date, refresh available times when needed, then select a live time button.

01 Choose a calendar view and date. Use Daily, Weekly or Monthly, the calendar arrows, or Selected date. Choose a future date with availability.

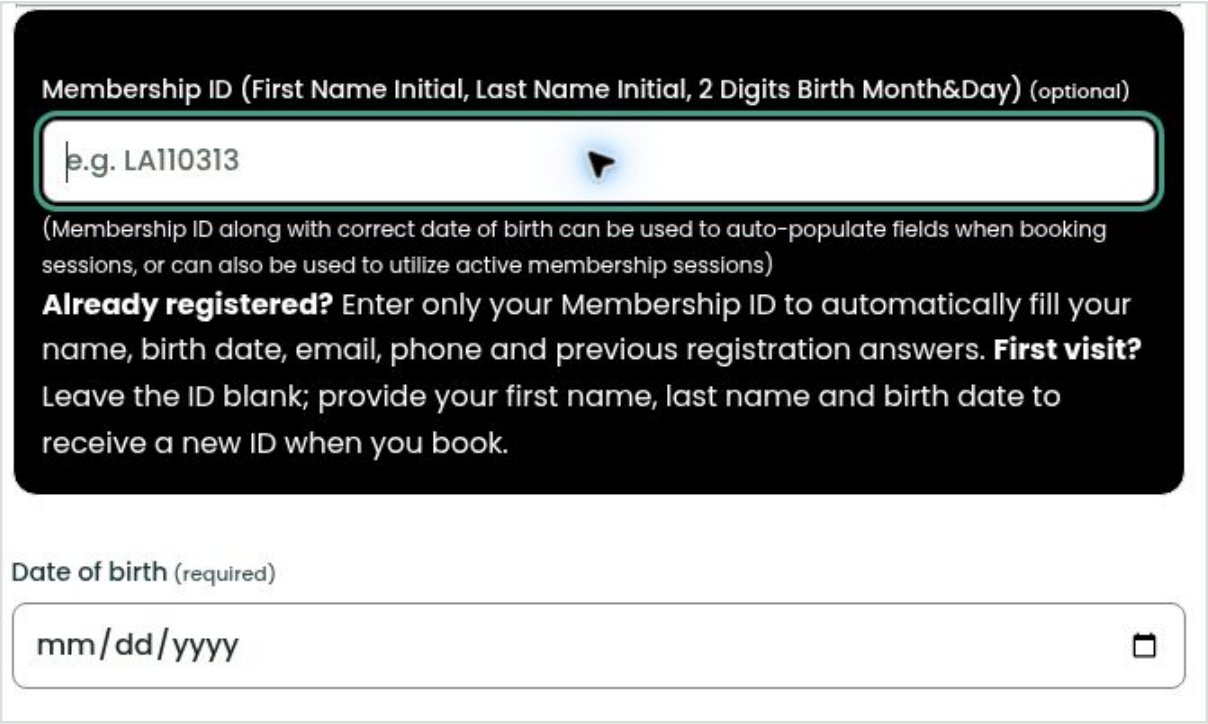

02 Choose a team member if offered. If the business has already assigned the team, the page tells you no team selection is needed. A scheduled group session uses its assigned team.

03 Select an available start time. Tap a time and then Continue. Availability can change while you are browsing. A selected time is not, by itself, a completed booking.

Group-session seats. If a session shows seats remaining, check that at least one is available. A full or unavailable session cannot be booked or paid for. Choose another session if the page says Session is now full. A request requiring approval does not hold a seat until accepted.

4. Review the visit and identify the player

Check the service, date, Eastern time, duration, team and amount before entering registration details.

LIVE SCREENSHOT The ID field and current Returning customer instructions appear above the registration fields.

01 Returning participant: enter the assigned ID. Enter only your Membership ID in the ID field. Wait for saved details to load; use Reload saved details if offered. You do not need to type a birth date first to start autofill.

02 First visit: leave the ID blank. Enter the participant's first name, last name and date of birth. SelahFlow assigns a business-specific ID after successful registration.

03 Review the amount again. A current, eligible paid membership may cover the service. An ID alone, pending membership, exhausted allowance or ineligible service does not make a booking free.

Use the issued ID exactly. Current IDs normally use eight characters; older six-character IDs may still be valid. Some custom field labels still describe an older format. Do not invent an ID, guess another child's ID or use a parent's ID for the participant.

5. Complete and check every required field

Saved answers are a starting point. Review them for the participant and visit you are booking now.

LIVE SCREENSHOT Required contact and soccer-related questions in the current Arcila Training registration form.

01 Use participant identity consistently. The first/last name and birth date should identify the player. Use the parent field for the parent's name when requested.

02 Check email and phone. Use an inbox you can open for payment links and confirmations. Confirm spelling. For text delivery, include a country code when requested; email is the primary path described here.

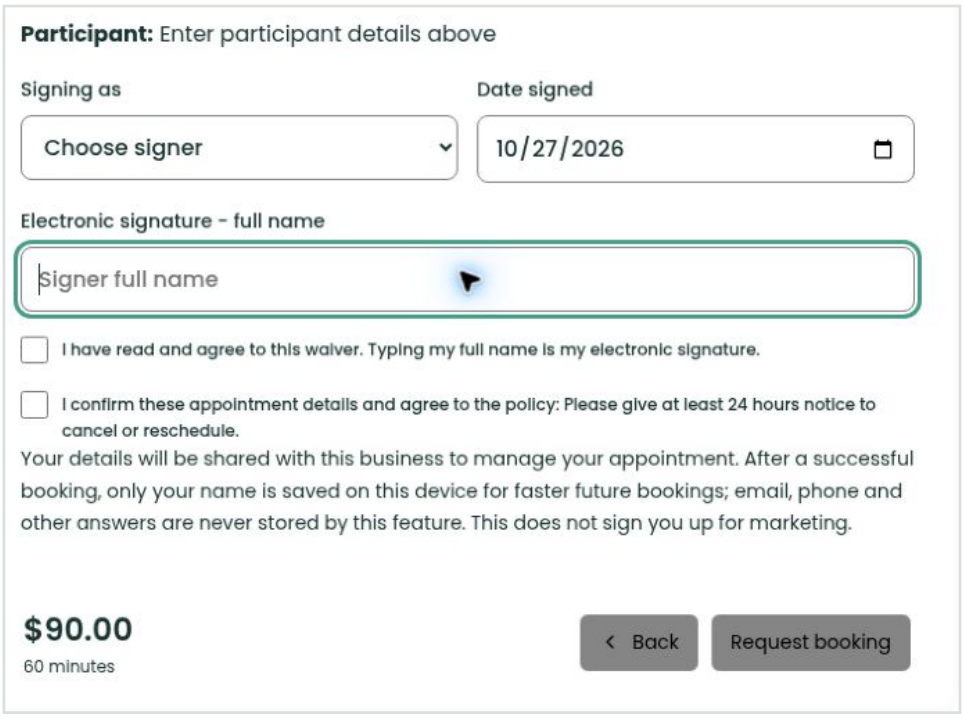

03 Answer the required questions. The captured form includes Player Level, Age group and Player Position. Choose the most accurate current option; required questions can vary by service or session.

04 Apply a coupon only if you have one. Enter the code and tap Apply coupon. Check the displayed revised total. Do not assume a coupon applies until the page confirms it.

If a field is wrong or missing. Correct editable details before submitting. If your saved ID cannot be matched or the birth date/name does not agree, contact Arcila Training rather than creating a second identity to bypass the issue.

6. Read, sign and submit your request

Do not sign for someone else unless you are the appropriate parent or legal guardian.

LIVE SCREENSHOT The signing controls and Request booking button. This example was left blank and unsubmitted.

01 Read the entire Participation waiver. For waiver-required services, review all displayed sections, including the media release. Ask Arcila Training about anything you do not understand before agreeing.

02 Choose Signing as. Use Participant (18 or older), Parent or Legal guardian as appropriate. Check Date signed, type the signer's full name and select the waiver agreement box only if you agree.

03 Confirm the booking policy. Check the separate appointment-details/policy box. The current policy asks for at least 24 hours' notice to cancel or reschedule.

04 Tap Request booking once. Wait for the success screen. Save the assigned Membership ID and booking reference. If the request is Awaiting approval, wait for Arcila's decision and payment instructions.

Why the button may be disabled. Required answers, policy consent or a required waiver may be incomplete, or the time may have become unavailable. Existing valid consent is normally reused for the same business/client identity and current accepted waiver version; the form will indicate what is required.

7. What happens after a booking?

Submission, acceptance and verified payment are different stages. Read the status shown for your specific booking.

When approval is required

01 Submitted / request received SelahFlow records your request and queues a booking-request email with the visit details and your ID. This message does not mean you have paid.

02 Arcila reviews the request Wait for acceptance or decline. A request does not guarantee a seat. Arcila must be able to accept the visit within the remaining capacity.

03 Accepted / payment requested If payment is due, the approval/payment email contains a private Make Payment link. Covered or zero-charge visits have no additional payment due.

04 Paid / payment received After Stripe payment is verified, the system records payment and queues a payment confirmation. Keep that email and recheck status if needed.

When approval is not required

The service can confirm immediately after a valid booking. You do not need a separate owner-acceptance step, but you must still complete any amount due. Follow the confirmation email or the payment option shown in the registration checker.

ILLUSTRATIVE EMAIL - NOT A REAL INBOX

From: SelahFlow (sending mailbox may vary)
Subject: Booking confirmed - payment requested - Arcila Training

Example only: Private Session, selected date/time, participant ID and amount due.
Make Payment opens the private payment page.
Check membership & booking status opens the public ID checker.

Do not submit the same booking again to get an email. Check Inbox, Spam/Junk and Promotions first. Use your ID to check the latest status or ask Arcila to verify the saved request and email address.

8. Pay for an accepted booking

Use the link for the correct participant and appointment. Never enter card details in the assistant or send them by email.

Option A - from the payment-request email

01 Open the Arcila Training message sent through SelahFlow Match the service, date/time, ID and amount. Tap Make Payment. The private link is personal; do not forward it.

02 Review the payment page Confirm the business, booking and amount. Open secure checkout if payment is still due.

03 Complete Stripe Checkout Choose a payment method actually offered, enter the requested payment details and review the final amount. Submit payment once, then let the return/verification screen finish.

04 Confirm the result Look for verified payment/Payment received and a confirmation email. An opened checkout or canceled checkout does not mean payment was made.

Option B - from Check registration

01 Look up your Membership ID Open Check registration, enter the ID and tap Check membership & appointment.

02 Open Make Payment when payment is due After approval, the checker may show Booking approved - Payment due. Tap Make Payment.

03 Verify the registration birth date Enter the date of birth used for that participant, then tap Continue to Stripe. This additional check opens payment access; it is separate from ID-only status lookup.

Checkout choices and processing. Card and supported wallets appear only when available. Use a bank method only if checkout actually offers it; availability is not promised. If a payment is processing, avoid starting a second payment. If online checkout is unavailable, contact Arcila Training. Follow your specific payment page even if generic sidebar wording mentions paying at the business.

9. Compare and choose a membership

A membership provides eligible usage benefits. It does not automatically enroll you into calendar sessions.

LIVE SCREENSHOT Membership categories and current Small Group Training plans.

01 Open Memberships. Use the top navigation or Explore memberships from booking.

02 Choose a category. The captured page includes All memberships, Private Training, Small Group Training and Hybrid. Check the plan description, weekly allowance, eligible services, price and billing interval.

03 Select one plan and tap Continue. Example: Group Academy currently shows one Small Group Session per week at $200/month. This guide's example is not a recommendation or a guaranteed future price.

Check service eligibility. A group plan covers its listed group service, a private plan covers its listed private service, and hybrid plans follow their published eligible services and limits. Ask Arcila about any description you find unclear before paying.

10. Register the correct participant

Use the same participant ID as previous bookings. You do not need a new ID just because you are buying a membership.

LIVE SCREENSHOT Returning-player ID and identity fields on the membership registration form.

01 Review the selected plan. Check the allowance, service eligibility, price and billing interval. Use Choose another plan if necessary.

02 Returning client: enter your ID only. Saved registration data loads automatically. Load existing customer can reload the saved record. Review the restored name, birth date, contact details and answers.

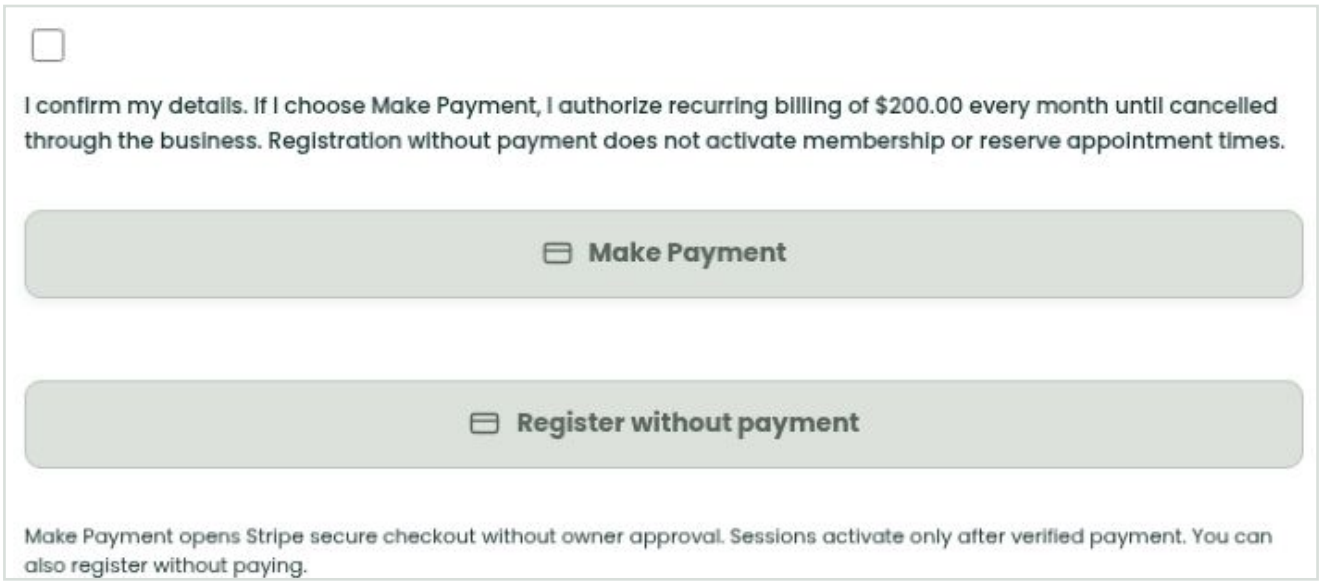

03 New client: leave the ID blank. Enter the participant's identity and all required contact/registration answers. A permanent business-specific ID is assigned when registration succeeds.

04 Complete membership questions. The current form includes Parent, Player Level, Age group and Player Position. Booking and membership required fields can differ.

Optional coupon. Apply a valid coupon before continuing and check whether it affects the first payment or each payment. The final Stripe summary and recurring terms should match what you intend to purchase.

11. Make the membership payment

Membership signup does not require booking approval. Benefits begin only after payment has been verified.

LIVE SCREENSHOT Recurring-billing consent, Make Payment and Register without payment. No consent was checked for this guide.

01 Read the recurring-payment consent. Confirm the participant and plan. Review the amount, billing interval and cancellation terms. Select the consent box only if you agree.

02 Choose Make Payment to pay now. This opens secure Stripe Checkout. Verify the first charge, any discount and the recurring terms before submitting payment.

03 Finish checkout and return. Wait for the app to verify the payment. Look for Your membership is active!, the plan name, Membership ID and sessions left. A processing state is not activation.

04 Save the membership confirmation email. It identifies the plan, ID, amount, billing information and balance at the time of the email. Use the live checker for the latest balance.

Register without payment is different. That button records registration but leaves the membership pending payment with no active credits and no appointment reservation. If the owner sends a membership payment invitation, open it, review the plan/ID/terms and use its Make payment button. Ask Arcila for the correct payment invitation if you already registered; avoid creating duplicate memberships.

12. Understand the membership month

The plan's usage allowance and its payment/billing schedule are related but separate. Follow the plan and paid-period dates shown for your membership.

Weekly usage follows your initial membership date

Current Arcila weekly plans allow one, two or three sessions per seven-day block, according to the selected plan. The blocks start on your initial membership date and restart at the next monthly anniversary. A partial fifth block is included. Unused weekly sessions do not roll over.

Example monthly period	Weekly blocks for a start on November 10
Block 1	November 10-16
Block 2	November 17-23
Block 3	November 24-30
Block 4	December 1-7
Partial block 5	December 8-9; the next membership month begins December 10

This is a date illustration, not a client account. Membership months can contain four or five weekly blocks. A one-session-per-week plan does not allow taking all of the month's allowance in one week. The business may adjust the initial date; short months can affect the anniversary date shown in your account.

Each visit still needs a booking

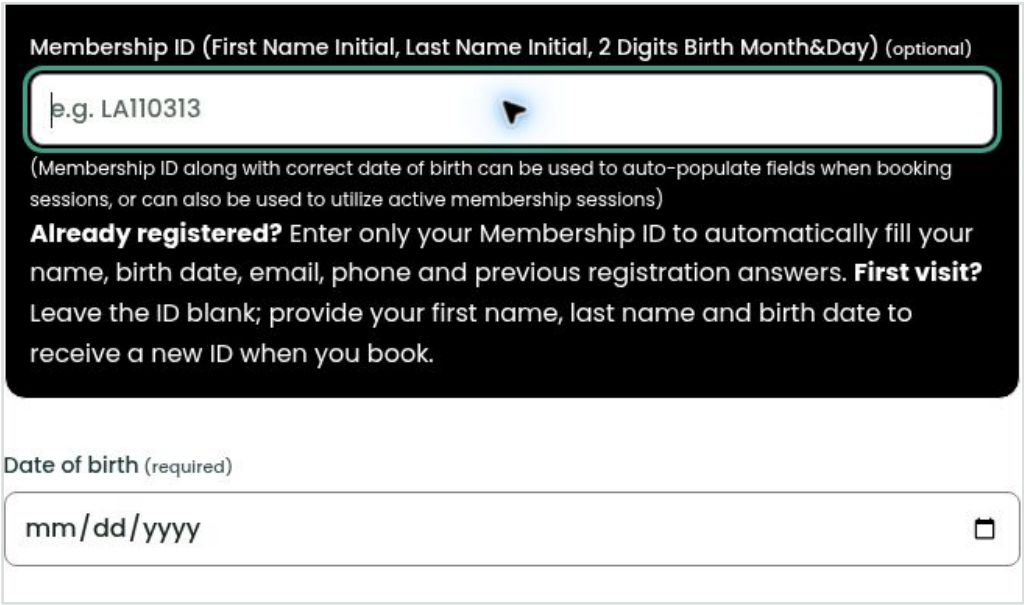

01 Use the booking calendar for every visit. Choose an eligible service and available time, enter the same ID and submit the booking. Paid membership does not bypass capacity or any required approval.

02 Read the coverage message. An eligible visit may show Covered by your membership. No payment due. If coverage is not applied, check the service, paid period, weekly allowance and remaining credits before submitting.

03 Track usage and attendance. Pending and confirmed covered bookings can reserve allowance. A check-in or no-show can consume a session; changing the same visit to Completed does not deduct again. Contact Arcila for corrections, cancellation rules or renewal questions.

13. Use your Membership ID for autofill

The Membership ID is the participant's business-specific client identifier. It can exist before a paid membership is active.

LIVE SCREENSHOT Enter the ID in the highlighted registration area; review the fields that load beneath it.

When booking or joining a membership

01 Enter the assigned ID in the form Use the exact letters and digits from the confirmation screen/email. Wait briefly for the lookup to finish.

02 Review what loads The system can restore saved first/last name, birth date, email, phone and saved configured registration answers. New or changed required questions may still need an answer.

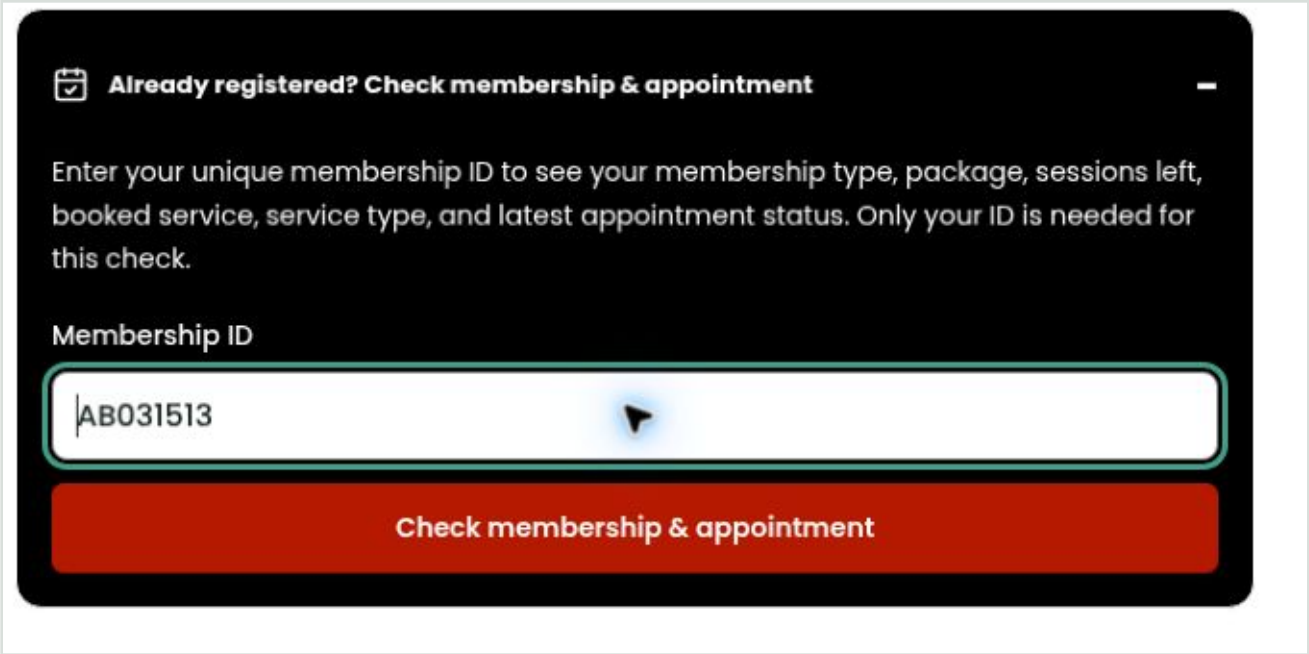

03 Correct the current form as needed Check the correct participant and contact details. If you change the ID, the previous person's restored details are cleared. Do not leave a different person's answers in the form.

04 Complete the remaining booking or membership steps Autofill does not submit a booking, sign a waiver, pay, activate credits or reserve a time. You must finish the normal process.

Keep the ID private. Anyone who has the business-specific ID can retrieve saved registration details through this feature. Share it only with the business and trusted family members who manage this participant's bookings. It is not a password. Use the right business page and ask Arcila for help if the ID is missing or incorrect.

14. Check membership and booking status

Only the Membership ID is required for the status summary. You do not need to sign into the owner dashboard.

LIVE SCREENSHOT Expand Already registered? Check membership & appointment, enter the ID, then use the red check button.

01 Open Check registration. Use the top navigation or the link below. The checker is also available near the start of the booking form.

02 Enter the participant's ID. Tap Check membership & appointment. A saved placeholder example is not your personal ID.

03 Read each result separately. The membership summary can show the membership type, package, status and sessions left. The latest appointment summary includes its status, date, booked service and service type.

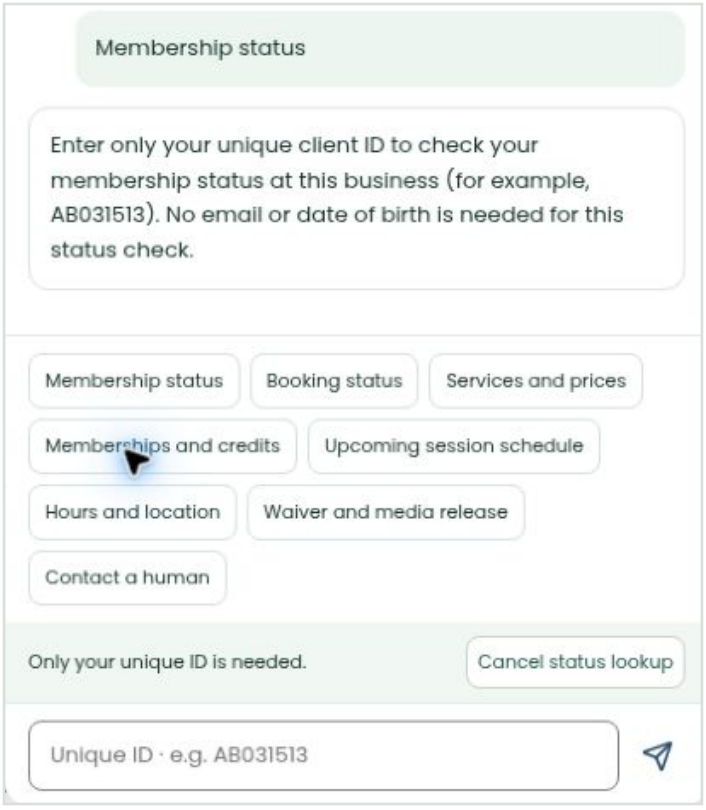

04 Review payment information if shown. The checker can show waiting for approval, payment due, payment received or no payment due. Opening payment from a due balance requires the registration birth date in the next step.

Open Arcila Training registration and status checker

Latest appointment is not every booking. The public summary shows the latest matching appointment, not a full customer history. For another visit, a reschedule, a cancellation or a balance correction, contact Arcila with the booking reference and visit date.

15. Ask the assistant for help or status

Use the chat bubble at the bottom right of the business page, booking page or membership page.

LIVE SCREENSHOT The assistant asks only for the unique client ID after Membership status is selected.

01 Choose the right request. Tap Membership status or Booking status, or type a request such as "Check my membership and booking status."

02 Provide only your assigned ID. Do not put card numbers, bank details, passwords or a birth date into chat. The assistant can show a limited status summary, not complete private registration details.

03 Expand the answer subsections. Read membership and booking results separately. To obtain this guide, ask for "booking instructions," "membership signup help," or "payment instructions," or use Request help on the right side of the page.

The assistant cannot book or charge you. Follow the live forms and Stripe payment page to complete those actions. General business answers use published information. For account changes or a specific problem, contact Arcila Training.

16. Emails sent through SelahFlow

SelahFlow is the third-party booking and communication service used by Arcila Training. Seeing SelahFlow as the sender is expected for automated messages.

Email or subject example	What it means and what to do
Booking request received - Arcila Training	Your request was submitted. Review the service, date/time, ID and quote. Wait for acceptance if approval is required; this is not proof of payment.
Booking approved - Arcila Training	The booking is accepted/confirmed. Read the payment section: an eligible covered visit may have no amount due.
Booking confirmed - payment requested - Arcila Training	The accepted booking has an amount due. Use its private Make Payment link and verify the booking before paying.
Payment received - Arcila Training	The booking's Stripe payment has been verified. Keep the message and check status if the displayed state has not refreshed.
Membership payment confirmed - Arcila Training	A membership payment was recorded. Review plan, Membership ID, amount, method, billing interval, sessions and paid-through information when present. The balance is a snapshot.
Membership payment invitation	Arcila may send an invitation for a specific saved membership. Review the participant ID, plan, amount, recurring terms and link before payment.

Subjects can vary slightly; current templates may use a dash or different wording. The email can use Arcila's branding while the sender name is SelahFlow. The sending email address depends on the configured mail service; do not rely only on the display name.

Confirm the destination. Booking links should take you back to the known SelahFlow business page or to Stripe-hosted checkout. Do not share private payment links, reply with card numbers or pay a different business. If a message is unexpected, contact Arcila using the phone number on its public page. Email arrival or provider acceptance is not guaranteed inbox delivery.

17. Troubleshooting without duplicate bookings

Use your existing ID and reference whenever possible. Refresh status before starting a second transaction.

What you see	What to do
Continue or Request booking is disabled	Select a service and available time; complete required answers, policy consent and any required waiver. Check whether the time became full or unavailable.
No times / session is full	Choose another date, scheduled session or team member if offered. Refresh availability. Do not attempt to pay for a full session.
ID does not load details	Check the exact ID and the Arcila business page. Wait for loading, then use Reload saved details / Load existing customer. Ask Arcila if it still fails; avoid guessing repeatedly.
Saved details are wrong	Check that this is the right participant's ID. Review editable answers and ask Arcila to correct the saved profile if necessary.
No confirmation or payment email	Check Spam/Junk and Promotions, search for Arcila Training and SelahFlow, and verify your email address with Arcila. Check status by ID instead of rebooking.
Booking is awaiting approval	Wait for Arcila's decision. Payment may only become available after acceptance. A request alone does not hold a seat.
Payment is processing / page closed	Reopen the original status or payment link. Check the result before paying again. Ask Arcila if the state remains unclear; do not create duplicate charges.
Membership registered but no credits	Registration without payment is pending. Complete the correct payment invitation or ask Arcila how to pay; benefits start after verified payment.
Paid membership does not cover the visit	Check service eligibility, paid-through date, remaining sessions and weekly limit. Pending reservations may use allowance. Contact Arcila before paying again.

Changes and cancellations: contact Arcila Training. The current public policy requests at least 24 hours' notice. Do not assume a payment, membership registration or assistant message changes an existing appointment.

18. Your quick-reference checklist

Keep your ID and booking reference somewhere you can find them. Do not place card or bank details in this checklist.

Before you finish a booking

1. Correct participant and assigned ID, or ID blank for a new client.
2. Correct service, date, Eastern time and location.
3. Required registration answers and contact details reviewed.
4. Required waiver read and signed by the appropriate person.
5. Booking policy confirmed and request successfully submitted.
6. Acceptance checked if required, then any amount due paid once.
7. Confirmation, ID and booking reference saved.

Before you finish joining a membership

1. Correct plan, weekly allowance, eligible services and billing interval.
2. Existing participant ID reused, with saved details reviewed.
3. Recurring payment terms read and accepted if paying online.
4. Payment verified and membership shown active before relying on credits.
5. Individual sessions booked separately in the calendar.
